The lone pine at the peak of the slender rock formation
Stands proud and strong stating
That life will last on a firm footing.
As the rooster perches itself at the crack of dawn
Awakening beams of light extends its shadow to say "It's time...arise."

The dawn announcing to all...awake... be aware - prepare
A day begins with the right attitude, heaven above and earth beneath
All fowl begin to ruffle as their leader directs an area for feed.
The radiant light erases a fading shadow of all doubt.
Now the luster of the feathers glow with brilliants.

A sense of smell causes the cock to scan for danger
Crows of warning is the alarm.
The proud bird flaps his wings to ward off the predator.
And fights with the strength of a Kong Fu boxer
With sharp claws that can scratch and a beak that can peck.
The difference of thought and actions stops the aggressor.

The pride is changed being humbled by gratitude
Many a family reflecting the sun's glow are the same thoughts.
The coop changes generation's quality of new ova are sensitivity to the rooster.

Man and the fowl have been found to have the same number of genomes.
Research finds the rooster's genome are more compact.
With awareness to sight, smell and light the proud rooster can really crow.

"Birds of a feather flock together" is the thought for the science research
One matures with gains of new values and perspectives.
The picture given for life is the love producing strength
Characteristics in each individual life beams is continuation of being.
As trees which foliate are constantly feeding the earth for stronger growth.
Each branch bend with a breath of air filtered by leaves of gold.

A precious gift of life with each move evolves with time.
A chemistry of life experiences give history for strengthening the frame.

As each structure stands tall creating an ideal image.
Wise advise from important instructions
Stimulating the advancements are thoughts for activity.
Man moves with shadows of awareness for protective power

Pride the self confidence of a worker brings generosity and success
For all mankind and generating good health and world peace for all.
